ROSE GARDEN™

Quick Facts:

Rose Quarter Development Cost	$262 million
Ground Breaking	July 11, 1993
First Event	Oct. 13, 1995
First Regular Season Game	Nov. 3, 1995
Basketball Capacity	21,401
Hockey Capacity	18,340
Concert Capacity	up to 20,900

The Rose Garden, home of the Portland Trail Blazers, has already made its mark as one of the nation's brightest new sports-entertainment complexes. In its first six months of operation, the Garden ranked second in the nation in gross revenues produced by venues of 20,000 or larger in a report by Performance Magazine. The arena is the centerpiece of the 38-acre Rose Quarter development on the east bank of the Willamette River just across from downtown Portland. In addition to the Rose Garden, the Rose Quarter campus includes the Memorial Coliseum, three restaurants, four parking garages, a large pedestrian mall with an outdoor concert area, corporate offices for the Blazers and the Oregon Arena Corp., and a $2 million "Essential Forces" elliptical water and fire feature at the Rose Garden's front door. The Rose Garden itself is extremely user friendly with 70 executive suites, 750 television monitors, a state-of-the-art sound system and an innovative food service that is indeed "cutting edge."

How to get here

The Rose Garden is easily accessable, located at the junction of the I-5 and 1-84 freeways, and only minutes from major hotels in the downtown area and the nearby Lloyd District. Access to media parking is at One Center Court off N. Interstate Ave., between the Broadway and Steel Bridges.

Blazers, Rose Garden on the Internet

Fans and the media can keep up with all the action and latest news by visiting the team's official site on the Internet at www.blazers.com. Ticket information, player biographies, features and the team's latest news releases are at the Blazers' Internet site. Views from each section in the Rose Garden are there to help fans see how the game will look from their seats. The site also makes it possible to send E-mail to the Blazers organization. The Rip City Interactive site, www.ripcity.com, allows fans to hear the latest news conferences in Real Audio. Information about the Rose Quarter, upcoming events, and links to other sports teams using the Rose Garden and the Memorial Coliseum are available at www.rosequarter.com. The Rose Quarter site also offers links to a wide variety of other interesting stops on the Internet.

PAUL ALLEN

The Wired World. The Portland Trail Blazers. Jimi Hendrix. Cyberspace. DreamWorks SKG with David Geffen, Jeffrey Katzenberg and Steven Spielberg. The information superhighway. Computers.

What do all of the above have in common? The intense and committed interest of Paul Allen, who is beginning his ninth year as Chairman of the Portland Trail Blazers.

Allen is a Seattle-area native who was introduced to computers and his future Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates while attending Lakeside School in the mid-1960s. After co-founding Microsoft Corporation, now the world's leading supplier of software for personal computers, with Gates in 1975, Allen served as Microsoft's executive vice president of research and new product development, the company's senior technology post, until 1983. During that time he helped develop Microsoft MS-DOS and Windows operating systems and the majority of Microsoft's most successful products, including Microsoft Word and the Microsoft Mouse. Allen remains a major shareholder and serves on Microsoft's board of directors.

After leaving Microsoft, Allen began to assemble a family of companies to explore products and technologies that will be important in an interactive future, or "wired world." In addition to the Portland Trail Blazers, this family of companies includes Asymetrix Corporation, Starwave Corporation, Interval Research, Ticketmaster Corporation, Vulcan Ventures Inc., the Paul Allen Group and Dreamworks SKG. Allen's portfolio currently includes over 25 technology, entertainment and biotechnology companies, and his business strategy includes encouraging communication and synergy between his companies for mutual benefit. Allen also holds an exclusive option to purchase the Seattle Seahawks National Football League franchise any time before July, 1997.

Allen gives back to the community through the four Allen Charitable Foundations, which support arts, medical and other charitable needs in the Pacific Northwest, and is the founder of the Experience Music Project™ (formerly the Jimi Hendrix Museum) in Seattle.

In 1988, Allen purchased the Portland Trail Blazers from owner Larry Weinberg. In Allen's second year, Portland made it to the NBA Finals and were back in the championship round two years later.

BERT KOLDE

Bert Kolde, Vice Chairman of the Portland Trail Blazers, has been a member of Paul Allen's management team since 1985.

He works closely with Allen and Trail Blazers' corporate officials in setting overall directions and strategies and seeing to their implementation. Kolde encourages close working relationships between Blazers staff and management and the variety of Paul Allen's companies that are recognized as being in the forefront of interactive multimedia computer development.

Kolde, who was a roommate of Allen's when the two were freshmen at Washington State University, co-founded Asymetrix Corporation with Paul Allen in 1985 and served as the company's president until last year. Asymetrix develops and sells multimedia and database design software. Kolde remains on Asymetrix's board of directors and also serves as a representative of Paul Allen's interests on the boards of several other companies.

Before joining Asymetrix, Kolde was vice president of management reporting for the Seafirst Corporation in Seattle. He began his career in finance with the Boeing Company.

He earned his bachelor of science degree in finance at Washington State University, and completed his master's degree in business administration at the University of Washington in 1980. In between, he was an officer in the U.S. Army, serving in the Panama Canal Zone.

JODY PATTON

As vice chairman and owner's representative for the Oregon Arena Corp., and owner's representative to the Trail Blazers, Jody Allen Patton has played a significant role in development of the team's new home, the Rose Garden, and its surrounding complex, the Rose Quarter.

Patton has been responsible for coordinating the contractors and architects on the Rose Quarter project, and representing the interests of Blazers Chairman Paul Allen. She was promoted to her present position July 12, 1994, after serving for two years as senior vice president, and has been involved in the Rose Quarter's development since the project's inception six years ago.

Since 1990, Patton has supervised major construction projects as owner's representative for the Oregon Arena Corporation and also for the Allen Estate. She has considerable experience in both the profit and nonprofit sectors, serving as director of the Paul G. Allen Charitable Foundations, executive director of the Experience Music Project™, and previous work in development for the Pacific Northwest Ballet. Patton is also vice-chairman of Vulcan Northwest, Inc., Paul Allen's management company.

Active in the Puget Sound area arts and education communities, Patton serves on the Meany Hall Advisory Board and the Lakeside School Building and Grounds Committee. Patton holds a bachelor of arts degree from Whitman College. The Patton family resides in Mercer Island, Wash.

Proud Sponsor of the Portland Trail Blazers

HARRY GLICKMAN

The Portland Trail Blazers, one of the most successful franchises in all of sports and a model for other organizations in professional basketball, point to the accomplishments of one man as the foundation for their rise to the top.

The man is Harry Glickman, now president emeritus of the Blazers.

In special cermonies prior to the San Antonio game on April 15, 1996, the Blazers and the City of Portland honored the team's founder. Franchise chairman Paul Allen and Portland Mayor Vera Katz partcipated in the ceremonies, capped by the naming of the spacious media dining room and work area on the Rose Garden's event level the Harry Glickman Media Center. Glickman was enshrined in the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame in 1986 and received the prestigious First Citizen Award for civic leadership in December of 1992.

The success of the Trail Blazers has been unequalled since Glickman first began wooing a franchise to Portland as early as the mid-1960's.

In January of 1970, Glickman went to the NBA meetings in Philadelphia with the backing for a franchise. Expansion into San Diego, Phoenix and Seattle, coupled with the transplanting of the Minneapolis Lakers to Los Angeles and Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco, opened up the West Coast to the predominantly eastern league and enhanced Portland's bid for a team. At the Philadelphia meetings, Glickman found the ante had been increased for an expansion team. He returned home empty-handed but that initial setback was shortlived. A month later with new financial backing, the Trail Blazers were born at a meeting in Los Angeles.

Just seven seasons into existence, the Blazers brought a world championship to the city of Portland. Glickman's initial commitment to putting Portland at the forefront of the NBA has never wavered, avoiding the complacency that sometimes accompanies success.

Glickman was born in Portland and graduated from the University of Oregon School of Journalism in 1948 following a stint in Germany during World War II. He served as director of the university's athletic news bureau as a sophomore and covered the Ducks for The Oregonian during the era of Norm Van Brocklin, one of Glickman's close friends.

Plans to become a sportswriter were tabled as Glickman began to open doors for himself in the area of promotions and publicity. After founding Oregon Sports Attractions in 1952, he devoted his efforts to promoting boxing, professional football and the Harlem Globetrotters, as well as non-sports related activities such as the Northwest tour of Judy Garland and Liberace. A pre-season football game between the Los Angeles Rams and the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 was staged by Glickman at Multnomah Civic Stadium. With more than 29,100 fans in attendance, it was his first sellout. He continued to bring the NFL to Portland until 1969. Glickman served as manager of the stadium in 1958 and 1959

In the fall of 1960, Glickman brought professional hockey back to Portland after a 10-year absence, organizing the Portland Buckaroos of the old Western Hockey League. During the '60s, the Buckaroos finished first seven times and second twice in one nine-year stretch. They smashed every attendance record in professional hockey outside the then tightly-knit six-team National Hockey League. Glickman was named Hockey Executive of the Year by Hockey News in 1965.

Glickman's commitment to improving the quality of life for the people of Oregon has not been limited just to providing the benefits derived from the realm of sports. He is active in a wide variety of civic affairs. The crowning glory of his long career may have been the construction of the Blazers' new home, The Rose Garden.

Glickman is also involved in Israeli sports activities. He serves on the U.S. Committee, Sports for Israel, which sponsors the highly-acclaimed Maccabiah Games (the international Jewish Olympics), and he also is on the board of the American Friends of Windgate, a school in Israel specializing in physical education. As a result, a basketball court for immigrant children near Jerusalem bears his name.

In addition to being an enshrinee in the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame, Glickman is also a Director Emeritus of the Hall. He has been named to the Webfoot Society of the University of Oregon and was among the first inductees of the Portland chapter of the University's Hall of Fame. Each year the State of Oregon's top professional athlete is honored with the Harry Glickman Professional Athlete of the Year award at The Oregonian Banquet of Champions.

Glickman and his wife, Joanne, have two daughters, Lynn and Jennifer; a son, Marshall; and grandson, Joel.

From where we sit, there isn't a bad seat in the house.

The New Plymouth Grand Voyager

In redesigning the next generation of minivans, we followed one simple rule: Make it as good as it can be. Then make it better. The same rules were followed when they built the Trailblazer's new Rose Garden Arena. It's better designed. Roomier. Better seating. Conveniences. Hmm. Think they're copying us? On Plymouth Grand Voyager, we added the option of a convenient second sliding door, an industry exclusive. There's Easy Out Roller Seats,™ another exclusive! Inside, there's more passenger and cargo space than any other minivan. Grand Voyager plays it safe with standard dual front air bags† and available four-wheel ABS. The Trailblazers? They play to win. BOB WHITSITT

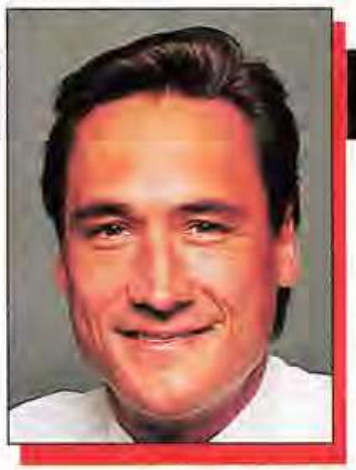
Bob Whitsitt is in his third season as president and general manager of Blazers Basketball, having been named to the post by chairman Paul Allen on July 12, 1994. He oversees all aspects of the Trail Blazers basketball operations.

Whitsitt, the 1994 NBA Executive of the Year, came to Portland following a successful eight-year stint as president and general manager of the Seattle SuperSonics. Prior to his arrival in 1986, the Sonics had won just 31 games in each of the two previous seasons and had ranked last in the league in attendance. During Whitsitt's tenure, the team posted a 377-279 (.575) record, capped by a club-record and NBA-high 63 wins in 1993-94, that resulted in a sellout of every home game during the regular season and playoffs.

Prior to joining the Sonics, Whitsitt was vice president, assistant general manager of the Kansas City and Sacramento Kings from 1984-86. He began his career in professional basketball with the Indiana Pacers as an intern in 1978 at the age of 22. He was promoted to director of business affairs and promotions the following year before becoming the Pacers' assistant general manager in 1981. In August of 1982, Whitsitt left the Pacers to join the then-Kansas City Kings as vice president, marketing director. Two years later, he was promoted to vice president, assistant general manager and joined the Kings in their move to Sacramento. At the age of 30, Whitsitt moved to Seattle as the youngest team president in the NBA.

A 1977 graduate in communications at Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Whitsitt received a Master's Degree in Sports Administration from The Ohio State University in 1978. He is a member of U.S.A. Basketball's Senior National Committee, a board member of the Portland Metropolitan Sports Authority and a member of Young President's Organization. The 40-year-old Whitsitt and his wife, Jan, have a daughter, Lily, and son, Sean. Jan, an attorney, once served as director of marketing and broadcasting for the SuperSonics.



JIM PAXSON

Jim Paxson, selected by fans as one of 10 members of the club's 25th anniversary season all-time "Legendary Lineup," is in his second year as assistant general manager. He was special assistant to President Bob Whitsitt in 1994-95, then moved into his present position where he oversees much of the day-to-day operations of Blazers basketball.

His duties include pre-season scheduling, managing the team's video program, and serving as liaison to the coaching staff and business office. He also is involved in player personnel matters and evaluates college, CBA and international player talent as an integral part of the NBA Draft process for Portland.

The Trail Blazers made Paxson, a star at Dayton University, their first selection (12th overall) in the 1979 draft. In the next nine seasons, he played in 627 games, the team's fourth highest total ever and is one of only four players ever to score more than 10,000 points in a Blazers uniform. He was an all-NBA second team selection in 1984 and twice represented Portland in the NBA All-Star game. Paxson finished his 11-year NBA career with the Boston Celtics. He rejoined the Blazers organization in 1993-94 as offensive skills coach.

Two other members of the Paxson family also played in the NBA. His father, James Sr., played with Minneapolis and Cincinnati in the mid-1950s. His brother, John, who is an assistant coach at Chicago, played nine of his 11 years in the league with the Bulls. Jim and his wife, Candice, reside in Portland. Jim has two sons, Michael and Nick.

P.J. CARLESIMO

P.J. Carlesimo, in his third season at the Trail Blazers helm, recorded his second consecutive winning season in 1995-96 as he guided Portland to a 44-38 finish, identical to the record of his first year with the team.

Carlesimo became the eighth head coach in franchise history on June 23, 1994. In his first year in the league, the Blazers finished 44-38.. That earned him the distinction of being the first NBA coach in 25 years to move directly from college to a head coaching job in the pros and post a winning record in his first season. The last coach to make the successful jump in one campaign was Cotton Fitzsimmons, who went from Kansas State to Phoenix and recorded a 48-34 mark in his inaugural season with the Suns in 1970-71.

Carlesimo, 47, spent 12 seasons as head coach at Seton Hall University, where he compiled a career record of 212-166 (.561). He was only the second Pirate coach to go over the 200 victory mark at Seton Hall, joining Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame member John "Honey" Russell in that exclusive club. Since the 1990-91 season, the Pirates posted a 93-38 (.710) record en route to four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. Carlesimo guided his team to six NCAA Tournament appearances in the seven years, and had five seasons with 20 or more wins.

Named head coach at Seton Hall in 1982, Carlesimo guided the Pirates to the NIT—their first post-season berth in 10 years—in 1986-87. The following season he led Seton Hall into the NCAA tournament for the first time in school history. During his tenure at Seton Hall, Carlesimo guided the Pirates to an appearance in the NCAA Championship game in 1989, the BIG EAST Conference championship and an appearance in the NCAA Final Eight in 1991, a share of the BIG EAST Conference regular season championship and a slot in the NCAA's Sweet 16 in 1992, and BIG EAST regular season and Tournament championships in 1993.

His first year as a head coach at the college level was an auspicious one. In the dual role of athletic director and basketball coach at New Hampshire College in 1975-76, he guided the Penmen to the Mayflower Conference championship and an NCAA tournament bid. The next season he moved to Wagner College on Staten Island to start a six-year coaching stint. During the final four years of that tenure, P.J. doubled as athletic director. In 1978-79 he guided the Seahawks to an NIT berth, the only post-season bid in the school's history, and tied the team record for wins in a season with 21.

Active in USA Basketball, Carlesimo served as an assistant coach on Chuck Daly's staff for the 1992 United States Men's Olympic "Dream Team", which made its debut in Portland at the Basketball Tournament of the Americas before going on to win the Gold medal in Barcelona.

In May and June of 1993, he was head coach of "Team USA", a squad comprised of the nation's top collegians that competed against a number of national teams in Europe. He guided the USA Team to the Gold medal in the World University Games in Sheffield, England, in August of 1991, and in the summer of 1990, he served as an assistant coach for the United States team that competed in the Goodwill Games and the World Championships. In 1989 Carlesimo coached the East team in the U.S. Olympic Festival, and in 1988 he was an assistant at the Olympic Trials.

Carlesimo has served on a number of committees for USA Basketball, including the Player Selection Subcommittee and the Games Committee for Men. A member of the NCAA Basketball Officiating Committee, he is a past president of the Metropolitan Basketball Coaches Association and the New Jersey College Basketball Coaches Association. He was appointed to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches in 1992.

A 1971 graduate of Fordham University, he earned nine letters in four varsity sports and competed in the NCAA basketball tournament during his final season as his team compiled a 26-3 record. P.J., a bachelor, is the eldest of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Carlesimo's 10 children.

RICK CARLISLE

Rick Carlisle starts his eighth NBA season as an assistant coach and his third in Portland under head coach P.J. Carlesimo.

Carlisle, 36, spent five years with the New Jersey Nets before joining the Trail Blazers staff. Hired initially by Bill Fitch as an assistant coach at New Jersey one month into the 1989-90 NBA campaign, he was retained by Chuck Daly and served as the most tenured coach with the club during Daly's two-year stint as the Nets' head coach. Carlisle had a wide range of responsibilities, including player development and scouting and spent the last three years primarily on the bench as an assistant coach for the Nets.

A five-year NBA veteran, Carlisle was Boston's third-round selection (69th overall) in the 1984 NBA Draft and was the only rookie to make the Celtics' squad that year. The following season, 1985-86, Carlisle earned a championship ring with the Celtics averaging 2.6 points in 77 games. During his playing career, which included stints with New York and New Jersey, he averaged 2.2 points in 188 games played.

Carlisle began his collegiate career at the University of Maine before transferring for his last two years at the University of Virginia. At Virginia, he averaged 11.1 points as a teammate of Ralph Sampson and studied psychology and business management.

DICK HARTER

Veteran coach Dick Harter, in his third season as an assistant on P.J. Carlesimo's staff,. has been recognized on both sides of the country for his accomplishments in college coaching where he won 60 percent of his games (295-195) over 18 years before moving to the NBA in 1983.

Most recently, Harter and his 1974-75 University of Oregon team were inducted into that school's Sports Hall of Fame. Harter's Duck teams, dubbed the Kamakazi Kids for their tenacious style of play, posted a 112-82 (58 percent) record from 1971 through 1978 and gave Oregon's McArthur Court the reputation as one of toughest places for visiting teams to win in all of college basketball.

The 65-year-old Harter has also been inducted into the Hall of Fame at his alma mater, University of Pennsylvania, and was the first Penn coach to go into the Big Five Hall of Fame. Pennsylvania's coaching ranks include such familiar NBA names as Chuck Daly, Jack McCloskey and Bob Weinhauer. Harter won Eastern Basketball Coach of the Year honors in 1971 when the Quakers finished 28-1. In his last two years at Penn, his teams were 53-3. He began his career at Rider College (1965-66), was at Penn from 1966-71, at Oregon from 1971-78, and at Penn State, 1978-83.

Harter came to the Blazers in 1994 after serving as an assistant to Pat Riley at New York Knicks for three years. He made his NBA debut as an assistant under Chuck Daly at Detroit in 1983-84. After three years at Detroit, Harter served for two seasons (1986-87 and 1987-88) at Indiana under Jack Ramsay. On June 3, 1988, Harter was named the first head coach at Charlotte and guided the Hornets during the franchise's first year and a half.

A 1953 graduate of Penn with a degree in education, Harter was a three-year letterman in basketball and helped lead his team to two Ivy League titles. After a three-year stint in the Marines, he coached at Germantown Academy in Philadelphia for two years.

Harter and his wife, Mari, live in Barton, Vermont, during the summer. He is the father of five children: Linda, Richard Jr., Jim, Robyn and Kerry.

JAY JENSEN

Jay Jensen, who became only the fourth trainer in Portland Trail Blazers history last fall, begins his eighth season in the NBA and the third under coach P.J. Carlesimo.

Before joining the Blazers staff, Jensen spent five years as the head trainer of the Minnesota Timberwolves. Previously, he served two years as head basketball trainer at USC and also worked for five years as the assistant trainer with the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League. While with the Utah Jazz, served as trainer for the Western Conference team at the 1994 NBA All-Star Game.

Jensen, 36, holds bachelor's degrees in physical education and physical therapy from Loma Linda (Calif.) University and has earned credits toward a master's degree in sports medicine from Chapman College in Orange, Calif. He is just one of five trainers in the National Basketball Association that is both a certified athletic trainer (A.T.C) and registered physical therapist (R.P.T.). He is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association, California Athletic Trainers Association and the American Physical Therapy Association.

His background includes experience in orthopedic and sports rehabilitation, management and treatment of athletic injuries, aerobic fitness training, cardiac rehabilitation, joint mobilization, electrotherapy, acute care, nutrition for athletes, athletic taping and immobilization and cybex testing. Jensen enjoys jogging and tennis.

INC.

We're the United States Bakery, and we've been around since 1906.
If you've never heard of us, it's probably because you know us by our other names: Franz, Snyder's, Williams', and Archway.
Individually, we operate as separate businesses, ensuring the high quality products, reliable service, and healthy price competition you expect.
The United States Bakery may be the most successful independent bakery in the Northwest, but it's really Franz, Snyder's, Williams', and Archway.
They're the ones who deserve
all the credit.

Chris Dudley

1996 J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award

Chris Dudley was recipient of the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for 1995-96. The award, presented annually by the Professional Basktball Writers Association, goes to an NBA player, coach or trainer in recognition of outstanding community service or charitable work. Dudley was honored for his work among children and young adults. He generously donated $300,000 to the Oregon Chapter of the "I Have a Dream" Foundation to sponsor 76 fourth graders at Northeast Portland's Vernon Elementary School. His charitable work also included a $100,000 gift to Gales Creek Camp in Oregon, one of two summer camps in the nation geared solely toward diabetic young people. Dudley, who has Type One diabetes, donated the money to pay for camp renovations, including a new bridge over Gales Creek. The Kennedy award is named in honor of the late NBA commissioner who served from 1963 through 1975. Dudley is the second Blazer to receive the honor. Terry Porter was recognized in 1993.

Sedgwick has always put quality first.

And we're the first North American broker to prove it.

In January, 1996, Sedgwick received ISO 9001/9002 quality certification of six U.S. operations. We are the first North American insurance broker to earn ISO 9000 certification across multiple locations, including risk consulting, insurance broking, claims management, employee benefits and personal insurance services. It's the first phase of an initiative to achieve ISO certification of all North American operations.

We are proud of our Sedgwick colleagues, but the real test is out there — serving clients. ISO 9000 is your assurance that every job, even the smallest task, will be performed to an internationally recognized standard of quality.

We are proving our quality commitment to the world. Now let us prove it to you.

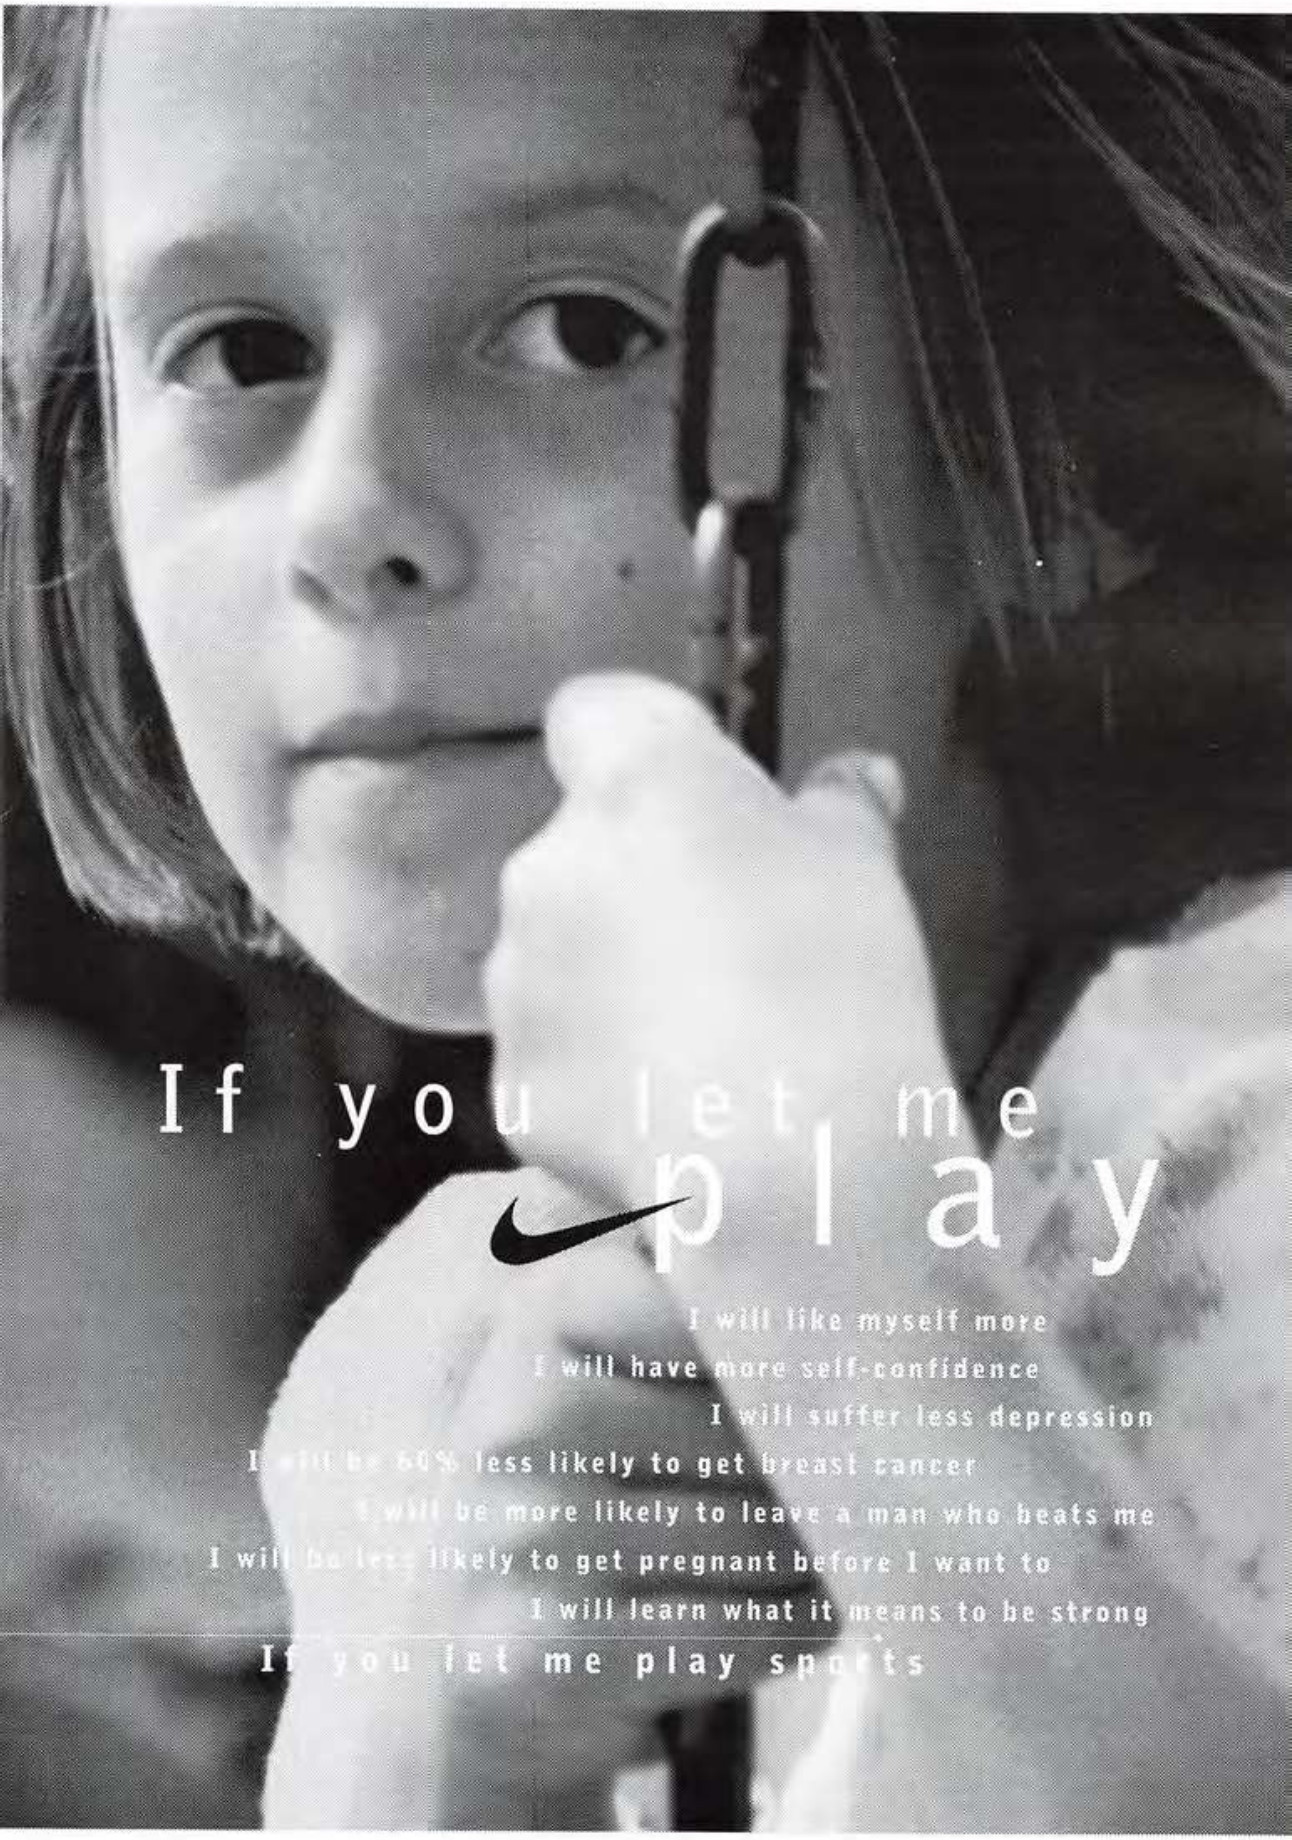
ALL-TIME RECORDS



If you let me play
I will like myself more
I will have more self-confidence
I will suffer less depression
I will be 60% less likely to get breast cancer
I will be more likely to leave a man who beats me
I will be less likely to get pregnant before I want to
I will learn what it means to be strong
If you let me play sports

Bill Walton virtually made a career out of rebounding against Golden State. He recorded two 26-rebound games, six games with 20 or more retrieves, ten of 17 or more and was in double figures in that statistics column in 15 of the 16 games he played against the Warriors while in a Blazer uniform. He averaged 17.3 caroms in those 16 games.

Bold indicates mark achieved during 1995-96 season.

Geoff Petrie is one of only eight players in the history of the NBA to score 2,000 or more points as a rookie. He led the Blazers in their first season by scoring 2,031 points, earning co-Rookie of the Year honors for his efforts. Geoff's first year performance puts him in select company. The list of other players to exceed that plateau as rookies includes five Hall of Famers---Wilt Chamberlain,Oscar Robertson, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry and Elvin Hayes plus Kareem Abdul Jabbar and Michael Jordan. Robertson and Jordan are the only other guards to accomplish the feat and Jordan is the only rookie to do so since Petrie topped the 2,000 point mark 25 seasons ago.

CHECK OUT THE BLAZERS IN THOSE TINY FOLDING CHAIRS.

(And you'll know what it's like to fly other airlines.)

JAMMED INTO a tiny seat with little or no legroom. If this is your typical airline experience, consider the non-typical airline. Alaska Airlines. On average, we offer a couple more inches of legroom than the major airlines. So whether you're a scrappy point guard or power forward, you'll fit in with us.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT----The longest game in Trail Blazers history was a four-overtime marathon March 16, 1984, against Chicago that lasted 3 hours and 24 minutes. The 1992 regular season windup on April 18 against the Los Angeles Lakers lasted 2 hours and 31 minutes, the longest regulation game on the books. The shortest game in Portland history was a 1 hour, 42 minute contest with the Lakers on Dec. 29, 1978. On Feb. 18, 1994, Portland and Philadelphia finished a game in 1hour, 47 minutes that included a 4 1/2 minute delay when Sixers' center Shawn Bradley was injured.

Strong inside game. We know the territory: We've been here since 1955.

Team speed. Claims are handled quickly, politely, and efficiently.

Great transition. New clients are integrated with minimal hassles.

Complete package. Managed care, indemnity, and dental coverage in one place.

Good coverage. We furnish the whole program; you save administration costs.

TRAIL BLAZERS HISTORY

Reads Urban Recreation in the A&E.

Doesn't.

Every week in the A&E you'll find different places to hike, bike, even lawn bowl in Portland. Which means recreation will be far easier to find than the remote.

A&E URBAN RECREATION. FRIDAYS IN THE OREGONIAN.

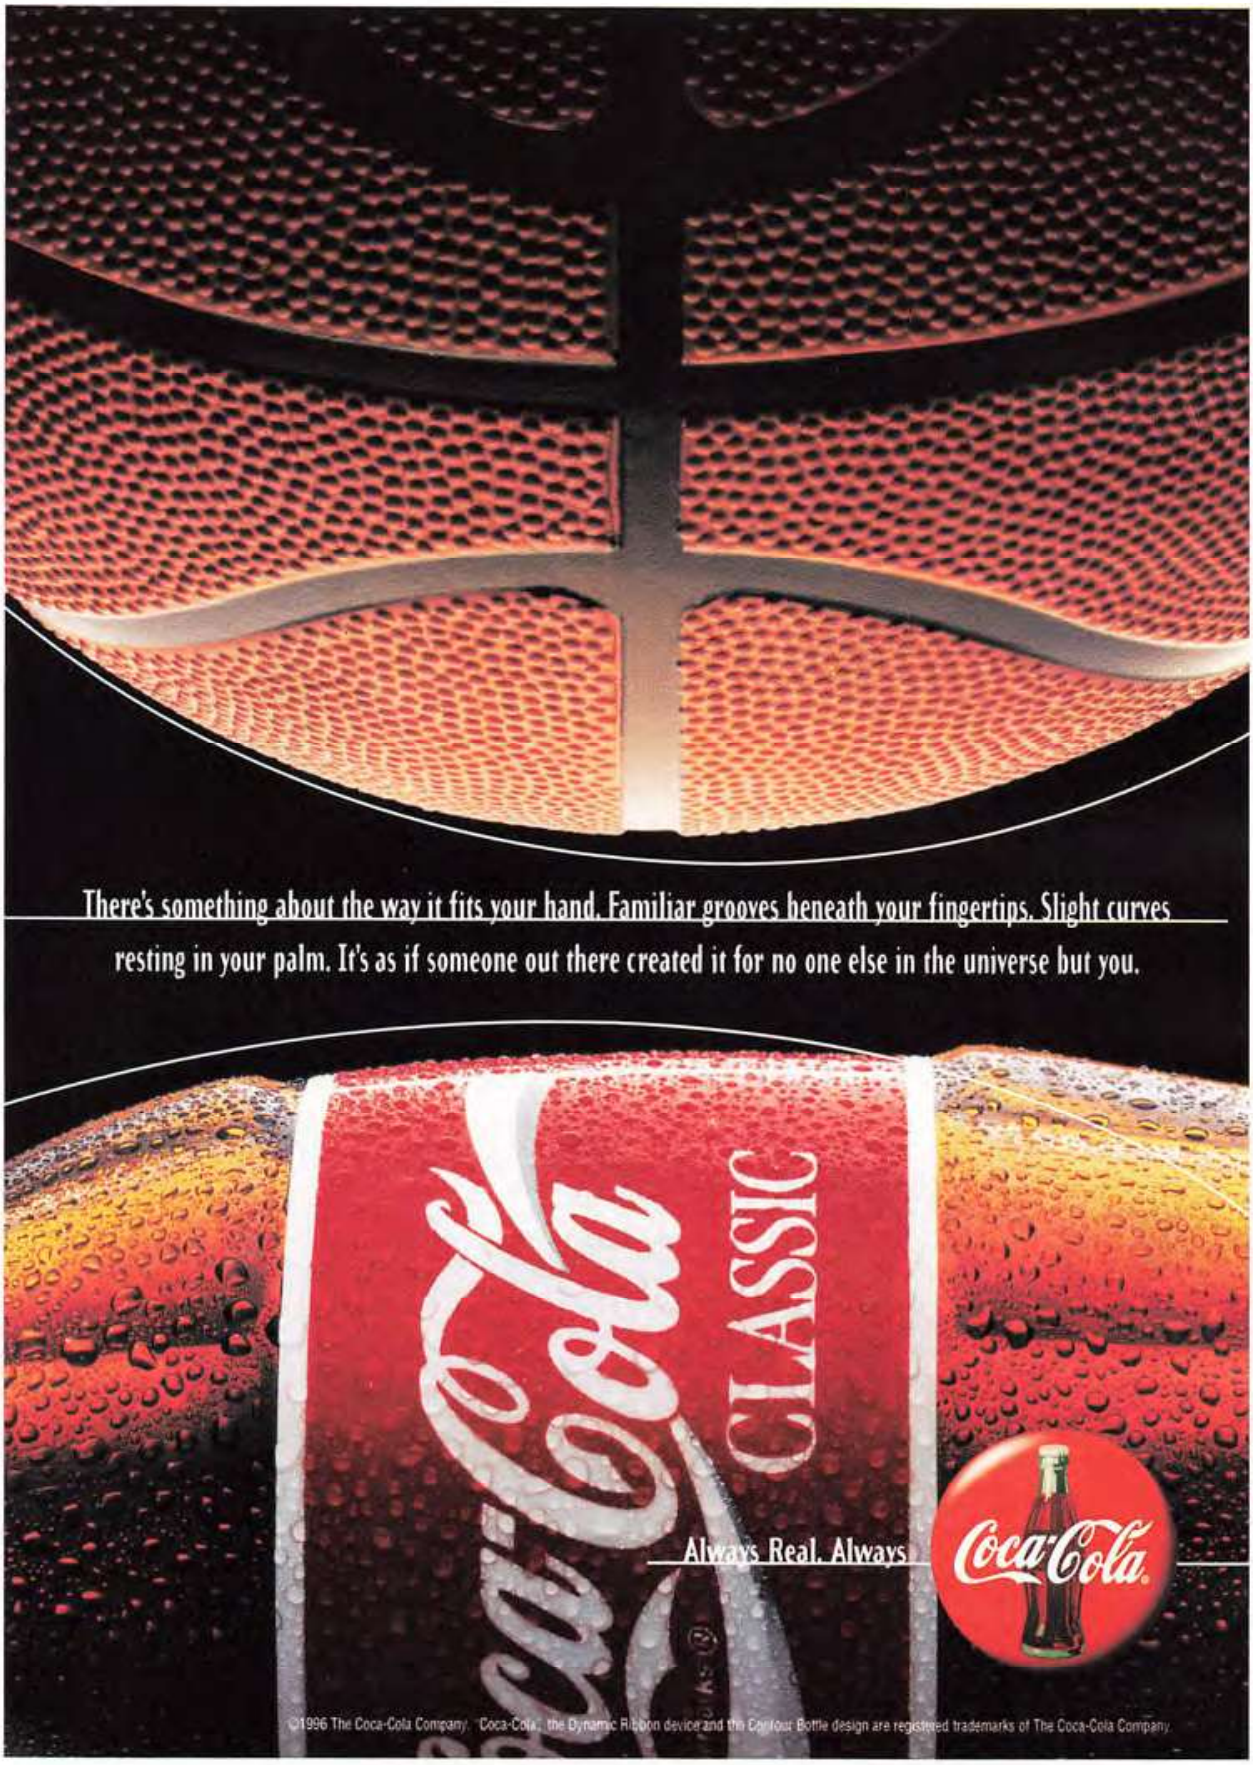
In the 25 years since the Trail Blazers joined the league as an expansion franchise, 12 different teams have won NBA titles and 15 different teams have been in The NBA Finals. However, of the 13 teams to come into the league since 1970---nine through expansion and four through merger with the old ABA---Orlando last spring became first to reach the NBA Finals other than the Blazers. Portland has been in the finals three times and is the only one to win a championship.



There's something about the way it fits your hand. Familiar grooves beneath your fingertips. Slight curves resting in your palm. It's as if someone out there created it for no one else in the universe but you.

"YOU TAKE CARE OF THE THINGS YOU CARE ABOUT."

It's up to all of us to take care of the Earth, as well as the things that live here. I work for Georgia-Pacific, a forest products company, and they believe the same thing. When we learned that the Coho salmon and Steelhead trout were struggling to survive, we came up with a plan to help. We're putting large boulders and logs in the rivers to create calm pools where the small fish can grow and survive until they head out to the ocean. It was something that needed to be done to help the fish. And it's good to know my company is doing it." Dick Patton, Resource Manager

PORTLAND YEARLY ATTENDANCE

• The Trail Blazers attracted 850,338 fans to 41 games in their new Rose Garden during the 1995-96 regular season, breaking their old one-season homecourt attendance record by 321,930. (The old record was 528,408 set three times from 1991-92 to 1993-94 in Memorial Coliseum.) Average attendance for the 41 regular season home games was 20,740 which was 97 percent capacity for the new building.

• The Rose Garden average for the regular season (20,740) was the fourth best in the NBA behind Charlotte (24,042), Chicago (23,634) and Toronto (23,080).

• The Blazers had sellouts for both of their home playoff games against Utah, extending their record of never having an empty seat for a post season game to 73 games, dating back to an April 12, 1977, First Round matchup with Chicago in Memorial Coliseum.

• Portland set an all-time one-game attendance record of 21,401 (The Rose Garden's capacity) on Nov. 14, 1995, in a game versus New York. The Blazers subsequently equalled that mark 13 times during regular season and playoff action. The previous all-time one-game attendance record was 12,951 on June 5, 1977 for the deciding game of the NBA Finals against Philadlephia in Memorial Coliseum. The biggest previous regular season home crowd was 12,823 for a Nov. 5, 1976, game against the Sixers.

• Portland's NBA record sellout streak of 814 games, including regular season and playoffs, came to an end on Nov. 20, 1995, when 20,381 fans came to The Rose Garden for a Blazers' contest with the Los Angeles Clippers. The last time the Trail Blazers had played before a less-than-capacity house at home was April 5, 1977, when 12,359 fans were on hand to watch Portland defeat Detroit.

• Including 41 road games, Portland's regular season attendance for 1995-96 totaled 1,525,231 (an average of 18,600). It was the first time in franchise history total regular season attendance had topped the 1.5 million mark. Total attendance for all games---regular season and playoffs---reached 1,627,240, an average of 18,703.

PORTLAND TRADE HISTORY

NOTES TO TRADE HISTORY

1. If a third team is not mentioned in the transaction then assume any draft pick is the choice of the team Portland is trading with or is Portland's choice
2. If a draft choice acquired in a transaction is subsequently traded by Portland in that original deal, the choice is listed as 'choice traded.' Everywhere else when referring to a draft choice, the player eventually selected by Portland or by the team ultimately receiving the draft choice is shown in parentheses.
3. In trades only what actually happened is given. If a team has several options in a deal only the one it ultimately uses is given.
4. Names in boldface indicate players who actually played for the Blazers.

Announcing the ARRIVAL of the new '97 Ford EXPEDITION

Get a load of the new '97 Ford Expedition. It has available seating for nine. It's bigger than a Tahoe or a Yukon. And still slips easily into a standard garage or parking space. • What's more, Expedition is equipped with standard dual airbags, 4-wheel ABS and an overhead-cam V-8. Niceties include an optional 6-disc CD changer, moonroof and leather trimmed interior. • The new '97 Ford Expedition. It's not just a case of bigger is better. It's proof.

*Always wear your safety belt.

* Portland paid Cleveland cash to not select Sidney Wicks with its first pick.

 Portland traded second choice (Jim Brewer) to Cleveland in exchange for John Johnson, Rick Roberson and an exchange of draft choices

 Indiana trades its first choice (Mychal Thompson) to Portland for Johnny Davis and Portland's third choice (Rick Robey).

When 1996 1st Round Draft choice Jermaine O'Neal's name appears on Portland's roster for the opening game of the season, he will be the youngest player ever be listed in the NBA. As of the season opening date of Nov. 1, O'Neal will be 14 days past his 18th birthday. Charlotte rookie Kobe Bryant, the second youngest player ever to come into the league, will be 18 years, 2 months and 8 days old on opening day. Kevin Garnett of Minnesota was 19 years, 5 months and 13 days when he launched his NBA career a year ago---the league's ninth youngest player ever.

1996 BLAZERS PLAYOFF GAME SUMMARIES

1. UTAH 110, PORTLAND 102 (April 25 at the Delta Center, Salt Lake City)

Portland led, 81-73 after three quarters and still had the lead, 91-90, with 5:36 remaining in the game before a late Jazz rally . . . Rod Strickland, with a team-high 27 points and 12 assists, and Arvydas Sabonis, with 26 points, led Portland . . . Sabonis converted an all-time team playoff high 16 free throws in 20 attempts . . . Clifford Robinson added 21 points for the Blazers, who shot .456 from the field (31-68) . . . John Stockton's 23 assists for Utah was one shy of the NBA playoff record . . . Karl Malone tallied 33 points and Jeff Hornacek 30 to lead the Jazz who shot .576 (38-64) from the floor. . . Attendance: 19,614.

2. UTAH 105, PORTLAND 90 (April 27 at the Delta Center, Salt Lake City)

The Trail Blazers' all-time playoff low 12 points in the fourth quarter was costly as Utah came from behind in the final stanza for the victory . . . Arvydas Sabonis paced Portland in scoring with 26 points and had a team-high 12 rebounds . . . Rod Strickland added 20 points, eight rebounds and seven assists . . . Karl Malone led the Jazz with 30 points and 14 rebounds . . . Portland converted just .383 of its shots from the field (31-81) while Utah was firing at a .594 clip (38-64) . . . Utah's 64 attempts tied a Blazers opponent playoff low for a game . . . Attendance: 19,911.

3. PORTLAND 94, UTAH 91 (April 29 at The Rose Garden)

Portland's game-long defensive pressure and a big put-back basket by Buck Williams with 14.1 seconds left in overtime sparked the Blazers to their first series win and their first playoff win ever in the Rose Garden . . . Arvydas Sabonis was Portland's leader with 27 points and 12 rebounds . . . Aaron McKie (16 points, 10 rebounds) and Rod Strickland (19 points, 8 assists, 8 rebounds) both stepped up big for Portland . . . Utah's Karl Malone had his third straight 30-plus game with a game-high 35 points . . . The Blazers won despite scoring an all-time playoff low 11 points in the first quarter and shooting just .344 (31-90) from the field . . . But they held the Jazz to a .378 shot chart (34-90) and won the battle of the boards, 55-54. . . Attendance: 21,401.

4. PORTLAND 98, UTAH 90 (May 1 at The Rose Garden)

Rod Strickland scored 27 points and Arvydas Sabonis added 25 points and 13 rebounds as the Blazers evened their First Round Playoff series with Utah at 2-2 . . . For the second straight game, Portland's defense held the Jazz to under 40 percent shooting from the field . . . Utah finished with a .377 file goal mark (29-77) . . . The Blazers answered with their best game of the series from the floor, connecting at a .485 clip (32-66) that included a 12-for-16 effort in the first quarter . . . For the fourth straight game, Portland commanded the boards, this time grabbing a 43-34 advantage . . . The Blazers never trailed after the 7:00 mark of the first period . . . Jeff Hornacek led Utah with 30 points . . . Attendance: 21,401.

Four of the six lowest scores ever recorded by Portland playoff opponents came in 1992. The Lakers' notched the lowest ever---76---in the first round series-deciding game on May 3 (losing 102-76). Other lows in 1992 included 79, also by the Lakers, 88 by Utah and 88 by Chicago. Ironically, the all-time playoff high by an opponent, 151, also happened in 1992, that by Phoenix in the Suns' two-overtime 153-151 loss to the Blazers in conference semifinals.

Clyde Drexler, in 1986, came up just one rebound shy of joining a small, select group of players in the NBA who have recorded quadruple doubles in a game. The latest to do it was David Robinson of San Antonio on Feb. 17, 1994. Clyde scored 26 points, dished out 11 assists and had 10 steals and 9 rebounds in a Jan. 10, 1986, Blazers victory at Milwaukee. Others who have scored quadruple doubles over the years are Nate Thurmond, Alvin Robertson and Hakeem Olajuwon.

Jody Maroni's Guide to Basketball Terminology

"Fast Break"

A quick outlet, a burst of speed... it can turn your whole game around.

1. Prepare. Pull a few bucks out of your pocket, grip tightly.
2. Anticipate. Watch the clock, move to the aisle, at the halftime buzzer: bolt.
3. Up and out. There's no substitute for conditioning, but hunger is a great motivator.
4. Aim. Maroni's Fast Break Window, is ready and waiting, don't miss. Check menu for inspiration.
5. Score! Lay it up, shoot the three or slam dunk. Enjoy it with a Widmer Bier...an unbeatable draught pick.

Next lesson: "Pick and Roll"

Jody Maroni makes the tastiest, healthiest, and fastest sausage in the western hemisphere. And he serves it right here in the Rose Quarter.

Get to the Garden early or stay late and enjoy all-natural gourmet sausage sandwiches, charbroiled burgers, super tacos and other specialties that are too good to rush...unless it's halftime and you just gotta have it.

Blazers out of town? Watch 'em on the big screen at Maroni's, we're just a jump shot away. Enjoy a fine handcrafted bier from the on-site Widmer Microbrewery.

THE OPPONENTS

Brilliant performance. Breakthrough price.

The new Phaser® 350 costs less to own, less to use than any other laser-class, workgroup color printer. With award-winning performance that's become the hallmark of Tektronix: RISC processing. Ample RAM. Networking. So now our incredible speed and brilliant color are the most affordable and economical, too. No wonder, at over $500 million in color printing revenue, Tektronix sells more workgroup color printers than anyone.

TO SOME
IT'S equipment.
TO A CHAMPION
IT'S THE
STUFF of dreams.
Talent. Dedication. Countless hours of intense effort.
At Texaco, we understand what it takes to excel.
And it's not unlike the drive that pushed
Texaco researchers to develop CleanSystem3, a gasoline that offers an advanced system of engine cleaning.
So what makes one star rise above another?
One plays a sport. The other lives it.

BILL SCHONELY

"Good evening basketball fans, wherever you may be. . ." With that statement Bill Schonely is doing what he does best, and what few others do nearly as well. For 26 years and 2,334 games, he's been bringing Trail Blazer basketball to radio and television fans from California north to Alaska. Only the Lakers' Chick Hearn (36 years) has been with his team longer than Schonely.

After a two-year stint as the play-by-play voice of the Trail Blazers television broadcasts, Schonely returned to the radio microphone in October of 1994, delivering play-by-play again from the opening tip of the first pre-season game right through the playoffs. Schonely will team with Blazers radio analyst Mike Rice for the fifth year. He worked with Mike for two seasons before moving to Portland's television broadcasts prior to the 1992-93 campaign.

Schonely's voice is perhaps the most recognizable in Oregon, as well as throughout the NBA. Schonz called his 2,000th Blazer game January 24, 1992, a 125-117 Blazer victory over Atlanta. With experience has come a reputation as one of the best play-by-play men in the business. He was voted Broadcaster of the Year in 1994 by the Oregon Association of Broadcasters. He's also become a national commodity as narrator of NBA promotional spots used across the country.

A native of Norristown, Penn., Schonely served in the U.S. Marine Corps before settling in Seattle where he worked as sports director of KVI radio for seven years. He served as the voice of the Seattle Totems of the Western Hockey League (and would later work for the NHL's Oakland Seals), University of Washington football, and Seattle Angels and Seattle Pilots baseball teams. The Pilots departed after just one season and the newly-created Trail Blazers of the NBA came calling.

Schonely is highly visible in Portland and throughout the state, regularly lending his support to many charitable causes such as those sponsored by The American Heart Association, the Life Flight program, and M.D.A. Charities. He serves on the board of directors of Providence Hospital. Bill and his wife, Dottie, reside in Lake Oswego.

STEVE JONES

Steve Jones is not only familiar and popular with Trail Blazers' faithful, but also with basketball fans nationwide who follow NBA action on NBC. Now in his 14th year as courtside analyst for Portland games on Blazer Vision cable and on KGW Channel 8, he also has become an a respected member of the NBC television broadcast team that covers the NBA.

While honing his talents with Blazer Broadcasting since the 1976-77 season, Jones has become highly visible on the national scene the last nine years. He served three years with TNT and TBS before joining the NBC team when the network obtained the NBA's television rights prior to the 1990-91 season. Jones served as basketball analyst with Chick Hearn and Jim Durham in Barcelona, Spain, as part of the NBC coverage of men's basketball during the 1992 Olympic Games. In that capacity he worked the equivalent of almost one-half of an NBA season, 36 games, in just two weeks.

Jones' broadcasting career began in 1976 (the season after he retired as a player with the Trail Blazers), when he became a color commentator for CBS. He was part of the network's crew that handled the Blazers championship game against Philadelphia. He also served as color analyst for the Blazers that year. Jones continued for three seasons with CBS, and worked with the Denver Nuggets during that time. He served a stint with the USA Cable Network, working with Eddie Doucette, the man he now shares the mike with when the Blazers are on television..

Jones worked with Bill Schonely behind the Blazer radio microphone from 1979 until 1981, when he stepped aside to devote a full-time effort to the club's talk show, now known as "Courtside...with Steve Jones", which airs 85 minutes prior to every game. He co-hosts, with Blazers radio analyst Mike Rice, the weekly program "Courtside: Monday Night" throughout the year.

Jones is a native of Portland who led Franklin High School to the state basketball championship in 1959 before going on to a standout career at the University of Oregon. He paced the Ducks in scoring during the 1963-64 season. Jones earned all-star honors during eight seasons in the now-defunct ABA, then played the 1975-76 season with the Trail Blazers before retiring.

When not behind a microphone or on an airplane, Jones can often be found working on his renowned tennis game.

MIKE RICE

Veteran head basketball coach and basketball commentator Mike Rice begins his seventh year as analyst on the team's radio broadcasts.

Rice was an honorable mention All-America selection at Duquesne as a senior, when he led the Dukes to a third-place national ranking and an NIT invitation. Selected in the eighth round of the 1962 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons, Rice opted instead to pursue a career in coaching. After posting a 245-71 record (.773) in 13 years at the high school level, Rice entered the college ranks in 1977 as an assistant coach at his alma mater. After being named head coach of the Dukes the next year, he guided them to a 62-49 (.559) record from 1978-1982. After leading Duquesne to two NIT appearances and twice-earning Eastern Eight "Coach of the Year" honors, Rice went on to Youngstown State in 1982. During his five-year tenure, the Penguins recorded a 20-win season and two second-place finishes in the Ohio Valley Conference. Twice he coached squads to the title game in the OVC tournament.

Rice moved to the broadcast booth in 1987 as a college basketball analyst for ESPN. A regular on ESPN's "Big Monday" lineup, he provided commentary for the games in the Big West as the primary analyst for the Western Athletic Conference. In addition to numerous regular season contests, Rice has also worked women's NCAA regional championship games, the Division II national championship game and high school all-star games. In 1989, he added broadcast duties with SportsChannel America as the primary analyst on their World Basketball League broadcasts. The WBL was familiar territory for Rice, who joined the Youngstown Pride in 1987 first as head coach, and later as director of basketball operations.

His wife Kathy is a former Duquesne Duchess basketball player. The couple has two daughters, Susan and Stephanie, both graduates of Syracuse University where they played tennis and one son, Mike, who played basketball at Fordham University. In his free time, Rice enjoys hustling on the tennis court and golf course.

EDDIE DOUCETTE

Longtime National Basketball Association broadcaster Eddie Doucette begins his third season serving as the Trail Blazers' television play-by-play announcer.

A 35-year veteran of the basketball airwaves, Doucette joined his former broadcast partner, TV analyst Steve Jones, at the Blazers' television table for the beginning of the 1994-95 season.. He spent the previous two campaigns doing the play-by-play on Portland's radio broadcasts. Doucette, who joined the Trail Blazers for the 1992-93 campaign, has called NBA basketball action for the Denver Nuggets, Indiana Pacers, Los Angeles Clippers and Milwaukee Bucks. He handled play-by-play for the NBA Radio Network, and was behind the mike during the 1992 Western Conference Finals when the Blazers defeated the Utah Jazz.

Eddie also has 13 years of experience announcing major league baseball, having served as television voice of the Los Angeles Dodgers and five other big league clubs. He has broadcast National Football League action with the Los Angeles Rams and the Mutual Broadcasting Network. His resume also encompasses a seven-year affiliation with the USA Television Network, where he announced major league baseball, college football and basketball, Grand Prix tennis, pro boxing and NBA basketball with his current on-air partner Steve Jones.

Known as a tireless community service worker, Doucette is the co-founder and executive vice president of the Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer Fund, which raises one million dollars annually for childhood cancer research.

A native of Evanston, Illinois, Doucette is a graduate of Michigan State University, where he majored in broadcast communications. He and his wife, Karen, have two sons, Brett and Cory.

NBA team up

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches support programs dedicated to helping build a better future for all people, with a special emphasis on youth.

The 1996-97 season marks the debut of the NBA's league-wide community outreach initiative entitled, the NBA TeamUp program. Its primary goal is to encourage youth to become actively involved in their communities. TeamUp helps young people develop an understanding of critical issues facing society and focuses on their ability to make a difference in the lives of others through community service projects. Program components include public service announcements, motivational visits by NBA spokesmen and players and a national youth service award.

This season the league also introduces the NBA Sportsmanship Initiative, a program designed to recognize and promote the importance of sportsmanship on and off the court. The nationwide program, implemented by the NBA in conjunction with the National Federation of State High School Associations, targets high school student athletes participating in basketball. Each year, an NBA player will be selected to receive the NBA Sportsmanship Award for demonstrating sportsmanship throughout the season.

The NBA also continues its support of Black History Month, CARE, the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday, the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse and Reading is Fundamental through a variety of community outreach efforts.

In addition, the NBA's 29 teams remain actively involved in supporting and implementing various programs that impact their local communities in the United States and Canada.

BLAZERS IN THE COMMUNITY

Year in and year out the Blazers are cheered on by their fans throughout the state and region and the team is committed to giving back to the community for that undying support. The Blazers call it "Community Partnership." It means both the team and its fans working together to improve the quality of life.

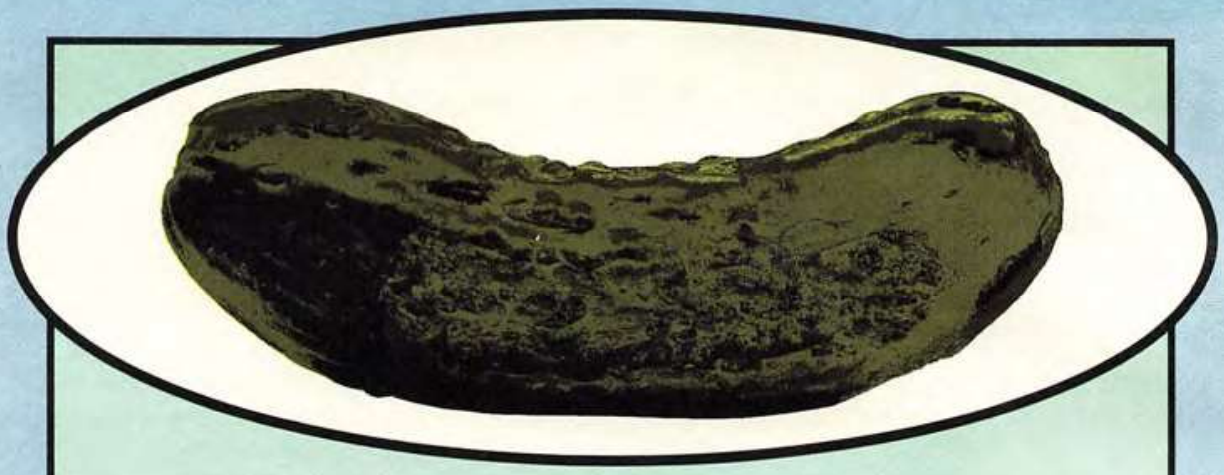
"Portland is very unique. Growing up in Wisconsin, the fan relationship reminds me of the Green Bay Packers," said Bob Whitsitt, Blazers president. "The Blazers have a relationship with the entire state of Oregon -- the team embraces the community and the community embraces the team. The team has a very strong obligation to give back and to be a part of the fiber of the community. It's a responsibility that we take very seriously and one that's been very good -- both ways -- for many, many years."

Last season proved to be one of the Blazers most successful years off the court. Here are some of the highlights:

In October 1995, more than 100,000 people descended on the Rose Quarter for the grand opening of the new $262 sports and entertainment complex. With a $1 suggested donation at the door, the public was encouraged to come into the new Rose Garden arena and check out the new digs. The three-day grand opening weekend and Friday night gala netted more than $156,000 for four local non-profit groups: Emanuel Children's Hospital (Pediatric Intensive Care Wing); the Urban League of Portland; the Portland Metropolitan Sports Authority (PMSA); and the Blazers Boys and Girls Club.

During the Blazers vs. Denver Nuggets game on February 22, the Blazers and their fans donated more than $15,000 to the American Red Cross for Northwest flood relief efforts. Some 1,200 families were assisted with cash vouchers, personal care items and clean up kits. In addition, the Blazers donated $15,000 in clothing bringing the total contribution to more than $30,000.

On March 18, the new $2.2 million Blazers Boys and Girls Club opened in Northeast Portland. The partnership is the first of its kind in the nation. The Blazers, on behalf of the Executive Suite Holders at the Rose Garden, donated $500,000 toward the Club's construction. The Club currently boasts 1,500 members and more than 250 visitors a day ranging in age from 6 to 18. The 27,000 square foot facility features a state-of-the-art computer technology lab, airway science center, arts and crafts studios, weight room, full size gymnasium and much more.



Why our founder was a lousy free throw shooter.

Steinfeld's®

Three generations of pickle people.

The Blazers, always looking for creative fundraising efforts, invited fans to come into the Rose Garden on May 5 to watch the Blazers take on the Jazz in Utah for game five of the first round of the NBA Playoffs on the BankAmerVision/Panasonic Astrovision big screen. The cost was $3 for adults, kids 6 and under free. More than $10,000 was raised for Doernbecher's Kids Making Miracles. Kids Making Miracles has the goal of raising one million dollars by the year 2000 for a new state-of-the-art health care facility just for kids.

Blazers center Chris Dudley was awarded with the prestigious J. Walter Kennedy award from the professional sports writers association on April 29. The award is given annually to the NBA's most community conscious player. Dudley's $300,000 donation to the "I Have a Dream" Foundation and his countless hours of community service made him the runaway winner. Dudley joins Terry Porter on the list of Blazers to win the award. Porter was honored in 1993.

NBA Commissioner David Stern visits Blazers Boys and Girls Club.

Minority Business Enterprise, Women-owned Business Enterprise and Emerging Small Business contractors all participated in the construction of the 37-acre Rose Quarter. The end result: $27 million of contracts were awarded to MBE, WBE and ESB firms.

The Blazers sponsored the Fabric of Life, a fundraising event that takes place annually in August. The Fabric of Life benefit is a celebration to help Oregonians living with AIDS. This year's benefit raised more than $180,000 for 12 different AIDS charities. More than $680,000 has been donated since the Fabric of Life formed in 1991.

The 1996-97 NBA season marks the seventh year the Blazers Wives Association has been actively involved in fundraising for local charities. Founded in 1990, the wives focus their efforts on non-profit organizations dedicated to women and children's issues. Through successful projects such as in-arena memorabilia auctions, cookbooks, food and clothing drives and fashion shows, the wives are nearing $300,000 in donations distributed to disadvantaged women and children throughout the state of Oregon.

Comprised mainly of members from past Blazers teams, the Les Schwab/Blazers Alumni Team travels throughout the state of Oregon and Southwest Washington playing for charity. Non-profit organizations host basketball games in their communities, with local teams tipping-off against the former professionals. All proceeds from the game including a halftime Blazers memorabilia auction is returned to the host charity. Through their efforts, the Blazers Alumni team's donations to non-profit organizations throughout the region averages nearly $100,000 annually.

For more information on the Community Partnership program contact the Blazers Community Affairs Hotline at (503) 797-9997 or visit the Blazers web site at www.blazers.com.

One of the Secrets to Winning the Big Games!

Build a Stronger Team, Overnight

Business is a game that never ends. You play it every day. And every day's the big game. But that's O.K. when you've got Pacific Office Automation on your team.

We're your authorized Sharp copier company. Call us. We'll show you how to score a big jump in productivity while reducing operating expenses.

Count on it. Pacific has a dependable Sharp copier that will do the job. Whether you need a few copies or thousands, collated and stapled.

A Remarkable Warranty

And we stand behind those great Sharp copiers with a remarkable warranty. Five years or a million copies, whichever comes last. That's right, last! Plus, we can tailor a Winning Game Plan to cover financing, upgrades, service, supplies, all the details. With Pacific on your team, it's just a whole lot easier to go out and win the big games.

Confidence from Doing Business with Neighbors

Pacific is the locally owned, nationally recognized copier company. And that's worth plenty. When you have questions, when you need service, you get answers, you get service right away. Local people make decisions. Local people take responsibility for your satisfaction.

Let us help you win the big games with a Winning Game Plan for copiers. Call us at (503) 641-2000.

Pacific is proud to sponsor Portland Trail Blazer Basketball.

MIKE PARKER begins his second season as host of "The Fifth Quarter" following each home and road Trail Blazers game broadcast on AM 1190, KEX.. Fans are invited to call in and talk with Mike about their favorite basketball topics. Parker, who joined the KEX staff in August, 1995, as host of "Sportsline" as well as "The Fifth Quarter," is no stranger to sports radio in Portland. For five years he was full-time talk show host on Sportsradio KFXX. Before that he worked for three years as the play-by-play voice of the Class AAA Portland Beavers baseball team. A graduate of the University of Oregon in rhetoric and communications, he started out as a play-by-play announcer for the Eugene Emeralds baseball team and has done work on University of Oregon football and basketball broadcasts. He and his wife, Missy, have one daughter, Lydia Rose.

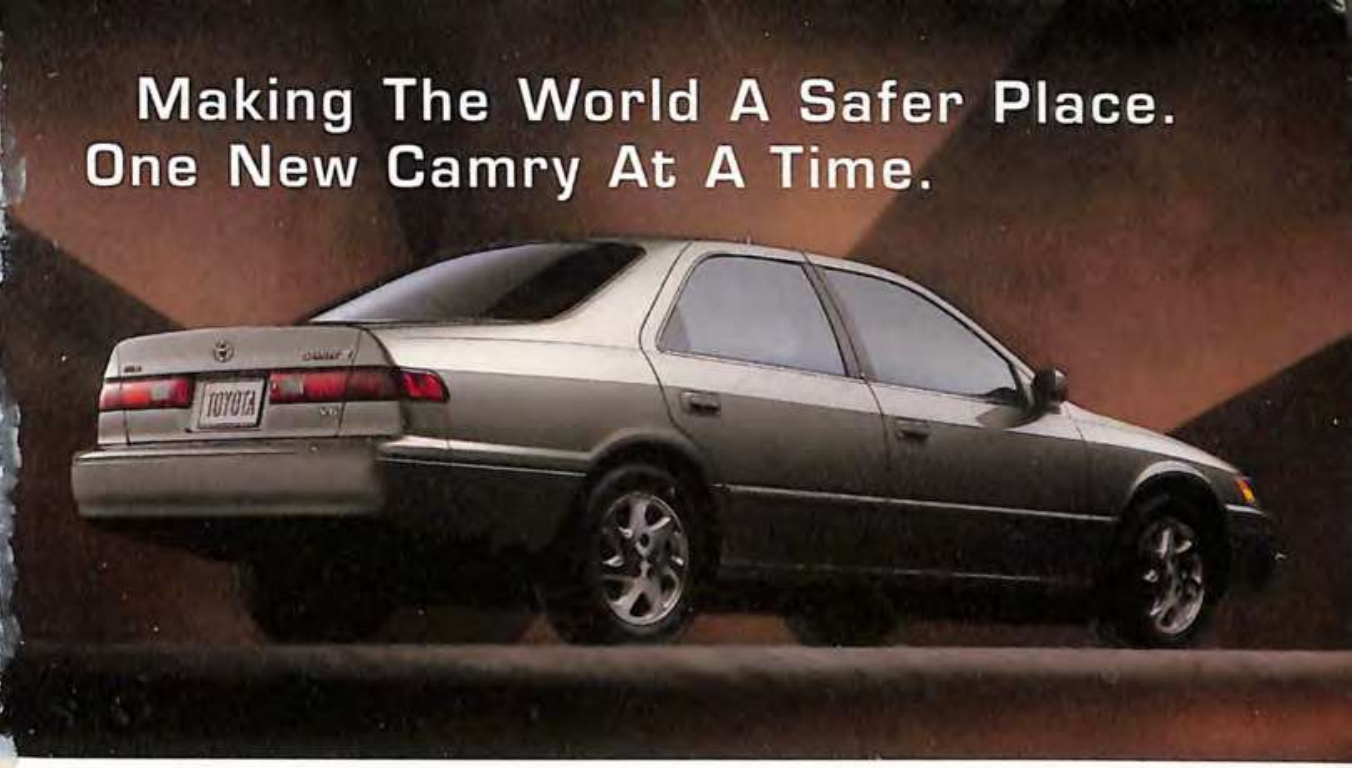
Making The World A Safer Place. One New Camry At A Time.



The looks of the all-new Toyota Camry just may turn out to be its second most attractive feature. Because what really makes the 1997 Camry look so good are the many things you can't see. Just under that beautiful skin, an ingenious structural design incorporates an energy-absorbing safety cell that helps disperse the force of an impact around the passenger compartment. Side-door impact beams and dual air bags add protection — inside. While available traction control, standard Anti-lock Brake System,* refined suspension and a choice of more powerful engines are all part of Camry's "active" safety system that is designed to help avoid the unforeseen — outside. All of which combine with hundreds of other improvements and refinements to make what has been called "The best car built in America" even smoother, quieter and more secure. The NEW Camry Better Than Ever.
